Charles Killion

Description

Frazier, III 399

Manufactured by Western Cartridge Co., East Alton, Ill.
Frazier, III 399

" ... Western Cartridge Division of Olin Mathieson Chemical Corp., East Alton, Ill., which manufactures ammunition under the trade names 'Western' as well as 'Winchester.'
Cunningham, III 490

Not (now?) manufactured by Winchester-Western.
Correspondence, George C. Thomson and Winchester-Western Division, Olin (filed Rifle, Nov. 1964)

Frazier: There was one live cartridge found. ... Boggs:
And the live one was manufactured also by - Frazier: Yes, the Western Cartridge Co. It bears the head stamp "WCC" and
"6.5 mm."

Frazier, III, 416

"You can buy them from mail-order houses primarily, or a few gun shops that have accumulated a supply by ordering them.
The information we have is that two million rounds were imported into the United States in one lot, one shipment ... "
Frazier, III 416

Walker bullet
CE 573

"We have never found any foreign manufacturer manufacturing 6.5 Mannlicher-Carcano ammunition that were similar to this."
Cunningham, III 491

" ... all of the remaining physical characteristics of this bullet, 573, are the same as Western 6.5 mm. Mannlicher-Carcano bullets ... However, ... it cannot be definitely stated that Exhibit 573 is in fact a Western Cartridge Co.
product, but all of the remaining characteristics ... are similar to Western ammunition."

Frazier, III 439

Dr. Alfred G. Oliver, Edgewood Arsenal, Md., tested rifle.
" ... obtained ... 160 rounds, I believe, from Winchester in New Haven."
