Kennedy's Son Hospitalized

BOSTON, Feb. 23 (UPI)—Edward M. Kennedy Jr., 12-year-old son of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, (D-Mass), was readmitted to Children's Hospital Medical Center Friday for "additional diagnostic tests" and treatment aimed at preventing a recurrence of bone cancer.

The young Kennedy's right leg was amputated above the knee at Georgetown University Hospital in Washington Nov. 17 when it was discovered he had a rare form of bone cancer.

A statement released by the medical center said Kennedy's second visit to the hospital this month was for a "continuation of a course of a therapy as an adjunct to primary treatment for his recent bone tumor.
