

Mrs. Onassis Brushes Aside Reports of a Marital Rift

Special to The New York Times

ATHENS, May 26 — Mrs. Aristotle S. Onassis brushed aside today rumors of strain in her marriage with the Greek shipowner.

She and Mr. Onassis arrived in Athens two days ago to prepare for their next party—a week-long cruise of Greek islands early next month aboard their yacht, the Christina, for three United States astronauts and their families and other prominent guests.

They left Paris Sunday in the wake of reports in British newspapers that the 63-year-old millionaire's renewed Paris appearances with the prima-donna Maria Callas had brought his wife, the widow of President John F. Kennedy, from New York and had led to arguments.

When asked about the reports, Mrs. Onassis said: "Oh, my God. What will they think of next?"
