King's Death Plot Known, Aide Declares

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The Rev. James Bevel, a close aide kev. James Bevel, a close aide to the late Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., says Memphis police knew about the plan to assassinate the Negro leader "a couple of days" before it happened, and did nothing.

Bevel, director of nonviolent education and direct action for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, said in an in-terview in the Philadelphia Bul-letin that there "definitely was conspiracy surrounding" King's death.

BEVEL, A 32-YEAR-OLD Baptist minister who was with King when the shooting oc-curred last April, contended that James Earl Ray—who that James Earl Ray—who pleaded guilty and was sentenced to 99 years in prison, "was convicted by the same brand of justice that black Americans are subjected to every day all over the nation."

Bevel had claimed in January that Ray was "innocent of the crime" but Tennessee court officials refused to let him join officials refused to let him join the defense because he was not a lawyer.

"IF AMERICA IS awake, it can learn a very powerful lesson from the Ray case concerning our courts and our system of justice, which is a threat to all of us," Bevel said. "Lots of evidence and information on the case was suppressed and Ray's attorney, Percy Forman, decided to have his client plead guilty because it was the one way to be certain to save Ray's life.

"AS A RESULT Ray is out of the way and the real killers are walking around freely."

Bevel said a letter outlining the assassination plot accidentally found its way into the hands of a black woman and was turned over to police. He declined to identify the woman or to elaborate on the contents of the letter.
