

Lobbyist on Senators:
'That Bunch of Bums'

Mrs. Dita D. Beard, in an interview with Time magazine last week, referred to the members of the Senate Judiciary Subcommittee who questioned her yesterday as "that bunch of little bums."

The magazine reported that the I.T.T. lobbyist said that, when in good health she "wasn't afraid of anything"—including "that bunch of little bums coming out here."

But Mrs. Beard, undergoing treatment in Denver for a heart ailment, also said, "I don't know how I'm going to face it"—an apparent reference to the questioning by the subcommittee in her hospital room.
