

Notes on People

Albin Krebs

Her physician has given Mrs. Dita Davis Beard the go-ahead to leave the Denver area next Thursday for an extended rest. "She'll go someplace for a sabbatical," said Dr. L. M. Radetsky, at Rocky Mountain Osteopathic Hospital. "I don't know where she'll go, but I don't think she'll go to Washington." The lobbyist for the International Telephone and Telegraph Corporation has been recuperating in private following her release from the hospital, where she had undergone treatment for heart seizures. She suffered a seizure in March as she was being questioned by Senate Judiciary Committee members. They were trying to find out about a memo she purportedly wrote linking settlement of an I.T.T. antitrust suit with a donation to the Republican party.