Captured 2nd Lead A037

HAVANA AP - Two captured anti-Castro commandos told a news conference Sunday they carried bullets tipped with potassium cyanide in a plot to kill Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

The two were among six captured Cuban exiles the Cuban government put on display at an extraordinary news conference lasting more than three hours. All six said they were recruited and trained by the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency in Florida.

Details of the plot against Castro were not given. But two of the captives said assassination of Castro was part of their mission. Bullets coated with the deadly poison were among the captured arms, Cuban authorities said.

The carefully elicited admissions were made before delegates to the Havana conference of revolutionaries from 27 Latin-American countries and visiting United States newsmen. The performance obviously added spice to the meeting of the Latin American Organization of Solidarity-OLAS.

It also apparently was aimed at offsetting Venezuelan charges that Cubans landed guerrillas near Caracas, Venezuela, in May.

The Communist party newspaper Granma called the prisoners' admissions "proof of the crimes that imperialism makes against Cuba."

Under questioning by three Cuban army officers, two of the exiles said they were agents of the CIA. In addition, four men captured July 18 were displayed with the arms and explosives the Cubans said they carried for terror and sabotage.

Cuban authorities said they also had arrested a fifth man, identified as Placido Hernandez. They said he was shot and wounded while resisting arrest and he was not at the news conference.

In Miami the militant anti-Castro exile group, Second Front of Escambray, said the men captured in Cuba were guerrillas from their organization.

THE SIX CAPTURED EXILES WERE MARCHED BEFORE HAVANA TELEVISION AND RADIO HAVANA MICROPHONES SUNDAY NIGHT. THE VOICE BROADCASTS WERE MONITORED IN MIAMI.

THE FOUR SECOND FRONT MEMBERS SAID A COMPANION, PLACIDO HERNANDEZ, WAS WOUNDED AND IN A CUBAN HOSPITAL.

JOSE RABEL NUNEZ, ONE OF THOSE IDENTIFIED BY CUBANS AS A CIA AGENT, FORMERLY BELONGED TO THE REVOLUTIONARY JUNTA HEADED BY MANUEL RAY. HE SAID HE CAPTAINED THE BOAT ABOARD WHICH RAY HEADED FOR CUBA IN 1964 BUT WAS CAPTURED IN THE BAHAMAS.

RABEL SAID, "IT WAS RAY'S PLAN TO INFILTRATE ELEMENTS INTO THREE CUBAN PROVINCES." RAY LIVES NOW IN PUERTO RICO.

A SECOND FRONT MEMBER, JOSE ROY RODRIGUEZ, SAID HE HAD BEEN TRAINED BY THE CIA IN RADIO COMMUNICATIONS IN THE MIAMI AREA--HOMESTEAD AND COCONUT GROVE.

"A GERMAN ADVISOR OF THE CIA TRAINED ME FOR EIGHT OR NINE MONTHS," ROY SAID.

Late Sunday night the six prisoners were marched before television cameras and Radio Havana microphones. Voice broadcasts were monitored in Miami.

The four Second Front members said a fifth man who landed with them was wounded and in a Cuban hospital. They identified him as Placido Hernandez.

One of the Second Front men, Jose Roy Rodriguez, said he had been trained in radio communications by an agent of the CIA in the Miami area.

HAVANA - Captured Lead A042 Add : Castro.
The government also showed arms it said four of the exiles brought to Cuba last month to carry out terrorism and sabotage. Included were plastic explosives and what were described as poison-tipped bullets, supposedly meant for the Cuban prime minister.
The carefully elicited admissions were made before delegates to the Havana Conference of Revolutionaries from 27 Latin American countries and visiting United Statesmen newsmen. The timing of the news conference obviously was to give the Latin American Organization of Solidarity-OLAS-a shot in the arm and to counter Venezuelan charges that Cubans landed guerrillas near Caracas last May.
The Communist party newspaper Granma announced before the news conference much of what the prisoners later admitted. It called it "proof of the crimes that imperialism makes against Cuba."

In Miami the militant anti-Castro exile group, Second Front of Escambray," said the men captured in Cuba were guerrillas from their organization.

Andres Nazario, secretary general of the Second Front, said the expedition left for Cuba nearly four weeks ago.

"They were going to infiltrate Cuba on a mission of subversion and guerrilla warfare and were going to join up with patriots inside Cuba," Nazario said.

The military commander of the Second Front group, Eloy Gutierrez Menoyo, was captured in Cuba two years ago after infiltrating on a similar mission. He was succeeded as commander in Miami by Armando Fleites.

The band of infiltrators was described in Miami by exile leader, Maj. Armando Fleites, Sunday as on a mission to kill Premier Fidel Castro as part of an "irregular warfare" campaign to topple the Communist regime.

The six prisoners were said to have lived in Miami but to have operated out of Tampa, Naples and Key West, Fla. All six said they were trained and recruited by the CIA.

Fleites said, "The objective of this mission most certainly was to kill Castro."

He said five members of the Second Front infiltrated Cuba landing July 18 and said the fifth either escaped or was being withheld from the public by the Castro regime.

Fleites declined to comment further pending a news conference later in the week. A source in the Second Front said Fleites was under an agreement with Life Magazine which the source said had helped finance the trip in exchange for exclusive rights to the story.

Cuban authorities said the four men who brought arms to Cuba were captured July 18 near Honda Bay in westernmost Pinar del Rio Province. They were identified as Jose Roy Rodriguez, Alberto Laucerica Diaz, Francisco Avila Azcuy and Pablo Garcia Roqueta. They said they were members of the Second Front.

Cuban army Lt. Jose Hamel identified one alleged CIA agent as Vincente P. Gonzalez Migoyo and said he was captured Saturday in Matanzas Province.

The other alleged CIA agent was identified as Jose Rabel Nunez, a Cuban government defector reported captured Sept. 4, 1965.

All except Rabel were dressed in what Cuban authorities described as "counterrevolutionary uniforms." Rabel wore civilian clothes.

The prisoners appeared frightened at the outset of the conference but managed a few smiles during the more than three hours of questioning. They said they did not know if they were going to be shot.

News men were permitted to question the six.

Although their stories were confusing and conflicting at times, it soon became apparent that the two men alleged to be CIA agents were accused of different operations.

In the midst of the confessions, the government also played a tape recording from a man it identified as CIA agent Tony Cuesta, captured in May 1966.

The government said two of the men betrayed their comrades to Cuban authorities, but it did not identify the two.

Garcia denied that killing the Cuban prime minister was part of his mission, but Laucerica said one objective was "the physical elimination of the leader of the Cuban revolution, Fidel Castro."

Roy said he was paid $200 for the mission and told a lengthy story of CIA recruitment and training in "security houses" in Miami. He described carrying out similar clandestine missions to Cuba before, but said the missions had been discovered and had not been able to land.

Under questioning by newsmen, Laucerica was asked if he felt his group could have carried out an assassination. He replied with a smile: "Circumstances for me to say no."

The four Second Front men said their objectives were to organize peasants against the government, sabotage sugar mills and power facilities and assassinate Cuban leaders.

They said they had been told 90 per cent of the Cuban population was against the government.

Garcia accused Armando Fleites, who he said organized the expedition, of betraying it by announcing the operation to Miami newspapers prematurely.

Cuban authorities said the four-man group came ashore from an "armed mother ship."

Asked about his treatment since his capture Saturday, Gonzalez said he had no complaints. "I expected something else," he said.

Rabel was identified as a former agrarian reform official. He said he defected in 1962 in an airplane and was met in Florida by U.S. officials who hustled him off to Washington for questioning.

He said he was paid $650 monthly, plus expenses, as a CIA agent and that more than 400 organizations in the United States worked for the CIA. Rabel, only one of the six who spoke English, said he came to Cuba to get his family out.

Cuban authorities declined to say whether the prisoners would be shot. The authorities said arms captured from the men included a .22-caliber pistol equipped with a silencer and bullets coated with potassium cyanide.

Cuban authorities on previous occasions have exhibited captured Cuban exiles on television. But it was evident they wanted more exposure this time and hence conducted a news conference.
