

G.O.P. Platform Is Praised By Former General Walker

SAN FRANCISCO, July 16 (UPI)—Former Gen. Edwin A. Walker said Wednesday night that the Republican National Convention was "a turning point in the nation."

Mr. Walker said that he was particularly pleased with the platform and glad that all amendments were voted down "particularly the one with respect to the nuclear weapons as well as the civil rights."

Mr. Walker said that the convention was built "on enthusiasm from the grass roots" for conservatism. He said there was a great shift throughout the nation—North and South—toward conservatism.

"It's wonderful to see so many people that are demanding to be heard," Mr. Walker said.
