Texas 'Klan' claims police connections

United Press International

HOUSTON — The head of the Texas Fiery Knights, a splinter group of the Ku Klux Klan, yesterday said his group had infiltrated the police department more successfully than undercover agents had penetrated his organization's ranks.

Imperial Wizard Scott Nelson said he Fiery Knights had more than a dozen active police officers, some of them located in key divisions.

Chief C. M. Lynn said he was investigating Nelson's claim.
