

Associated Press

Mrs. Rukmini Menon, Indian Foreign Ministry official, greeting Henry A. Kissinger on arrival in New Delhi at start of visit. At right is Kenneth B. Keating, U.S. Ambassador.

Notes on People

Kissinger Dodges Protesters

Indian security police helped Henry A. Kissinger, President Nixon's adviser on national security, dodge anti-American demonstrators yesterday at New Delhi airport. Mr. Kissinger arrived for a two-day visit that is expected to include talks with Prime Minister Indira Gandhi.

On his arrival, about 100 demonstrators, kept outside the airport by the police, chanted slogans protesting continuing American military aid to Pakistan and bore signs, one of them reading, "Kissinger of Death Go Back." While security men moved Mr. Kissinger and Ambassador Kenneth B. Keating out another exit, two diplomats replaced them in the Ambassador's official car and drove past the demonstrators.

Another traveling Nixon Administration official, Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, visited Sapporo, the capital of Hokkaido, the northernmost island of Japan. He watched a military parade and toured the site of the 1972 Winter Olympics.

Political report: Will Mayor Lindsay seek the Presidency in 1972? "I honestly don't know. I don't think he does either," said his 20-year-old daughter, Katharine Lindsay, in an interview. She is working here as a model for the summer.

His honeymoon ended. Edward F. Cox arrived at the office of the United States Attorney in New York to resume his summer job. How was the honeymoon with Tricia Nixon at Camp David in Maryland? "I had a wonderful honeymoon, that's all," Mr. Cox said.

Mr. Cox, who will start his final year at Harvard Law School in the fall, is scheduled to work on criminal cases. But his $60-a-week job will not be all crime. Among the activities the office has scheduled for its summer lawyers will be a softball game and picnic at Governors Island tomorrow.

While Tricia was in her first days as a New York housewife, her younger sister, Mrs. Julie Eisenhower, flew into Madrid for a visit to the Prado and lunch with Princess Sophia, wife of Prince Juan Carlos de Bourbon, designated as the future King.

A dog's best friend
Bronx Congress-
tion