'A Man of the Highest Personal Integrity'

By BARRY M. GOLDWATER

Rehnquist will never find a more of Supreme Court nominee William H. difficult target. WASHINGTON — Liberal opponents out a lifetime of records and comments by the Phoenix attorney have left nothing to object to except Mr. the Senate Judiciary Committee plus thousands of hours spent searching Rehnquist's political views. Almost a week of hearings before so much time on the qualifications of one nominee. cians, legal experts and others spent have so many journalists, academi-It is estimated that never before sands of words, voiced and written, about Mr. Rehnquist are these salient And what emerges from the thou-

Mr. Rehnquist is a man of the highest personal integrity and professional competence.

the trouble to see both sides of all issues to which he addresses himself.

Mr. Rehnquist is a man who has Mr. Rehnquist is a man who takes demonstrated himself to be thoughtful

"Mr. Rehnquist is a man who takes the trouble to see both sides of all issues."

mainstream of this country's thinking. and moderate; a man whose beliefs and convictions are well within the and temper under the most extreme and trying circumstances.

He has proven to friends and critics a nonstop inquisition by liberal politifor Mr. Rehnquist which emerged from was his ability to maintain his poise clans, commentators and journalists Perhaps one of the greatest pluses statements to quote out of context. to find even short passages of his past that his severest critics were hard put is a man of such breadth and balance alike that he wears pressure well, and could fairly be described as a man to society as a whole. He perhaps extend not only to the accused but also acquaintance of many years, I know him to be a man who believes that the It would be unfair to say that the Phoenix attorney is a man devoid of political and social convictions. As an protection of individual rights should who believes in a system based on ordered justice, who is deeply concerned about threats to our demo-

Rehnquist's chances, he is being called a "right-wing zealot," a "radical of the right," a "laundered McCarthyite" and an "extremist in favor of executive supremacy and diminution of personal freedom." cratic processes.

Some, but by no means all, of Mr.
Rehnquist's opponents have lately begun to use smear tactics in an effort to prevent his confirmation. The tactics by now have included exagmeasure of desperation, but the fact remains that now that the committee a considerable variety of vicious labels questioning has failed to destroy Mr. and characterizations. It may be a tortions of his public statements, plus gerations of his views, outright disand defeated their own purpose when Mr. Rehnquist overstepped themselves In my opinion, the opponents of spread charges without evidence. Kennedy further told Rauh: "You have about the nominee, a warning not to nominee through a process of guilt by association blew up right in his left an atmosphere that I think is tee member with admitted reservations Kennedy of Massachusetts, a commitface. It brought from Senator Edward and his obvious attempt to smear the Mr. Rehnquist's denial of membership Rauh's attempt to cast doubt on of Arizona, is a long-time friend of William H. Renhquist. Senator Barry Goldwater, Republican they seized on a casual talk-show claim that the President's nominee was may have tipped the Senatorial scales in Mr. Rehnquist's behalf. ever been a member of the Birch Almost as soon as the charge hit the airwaves, the nominee filed a sworn Rauh, to use it for smear purposes the effort of the A.D.A. leader, Joseph Society. Unfair as the charge was, tee denying that he was now or had statement with the Judiciary Commita member of the John Birch Society, rather poisonous."