Protesters, Police See Peace in N

By John Burks

sweaty Florida resort city. cerned that it's going to be one messy week for this National Convention, is conin any way impede the GOP forcement should protesters dienst, who has promised ney General Richard Kleinstern and immediate law en-MIAMI BEACH - Attor-

Beach Police Department to be relatively peaceable themselves think it's going But the demonstrators so does the Miami

Law and Order and strict law enforcetough about demonstrators ney General has got to talk der platform, so their Attorare running on a law and orhaired young man wearing a blue shirt. "The Republicans "You've got to realize one said one dark-vention liaison officer. He says that contrary to ruthe police department's con-The speaker is Pete Corso, convention. mors, the Miami Beach police are going to police this scenario has it, at some aptake over law enforcement pointed hour Kleindienst will The way the rumor mill's rived early are placing bets General will order mass aras to whether the Attorney rests on Wednesday, the day the most massive protests Some newsmen who ar-> before, to rob anti-GOP demonstrators of their moment of drama.

-AP Photo

'Feds Won't Interfere are planned — or the night all the demonstrators in sort of martial law and clap in Miani Beach, declare a war people than McGovern. But Corso feels sure the appealing target for antiand because Nixon is a more when the Democrats were in demonstrators expected because there are more the GOP convention than will be more arrested during riot - associated busts then town (there were only two Policeman Corso scoffs at He feels certain there police business in this city." "Feds won't interfere with The faces of Flamingo Park . . . youth gathers at GOP convention half that many. movement, predict less than 000. The unaffiliated Zippies. protest groups, predicts 10,consisting of nearly all the ami Convention Coalition, merical predictions. The Mi-Corso won't attempt any nucruit dissidents to come to Miami haven't gone well. number of demonstrators the anarchists of the radical they hear that efforts to rehat will turn up. Cops say Estimates vary as to the month for the Democrats. About 3000 turned up last 'Day of Unacceptance' ber for the demonstrators The big production num-acceptance," as they are calling it, to be staged Wednesday, the day President Nixon is scheduled to make his acceptance speech.

vention Coalition media coordinator, Bob Lamb: Sitcording to the Miami Conprotest activity that day, acins and "mobile" actions. There will be two forms of through jeering non - delegates, in a "gantlet of shame." Now it appears which figures to result in arbreach of the law and one sit-ins will also be used to obstruct auto tion would be forced to walk designed so the GOP delega-Originally, the sit-ins were traffic, a jumping by "hitting em then move on before police can arrive. The notion becreate a disruptive scene, ter" happenings, take the form of random and where they ain't." demonstrators will stop to unpredictable "street theahind this is to keep the cops The "mobile" actions will where violence: That there will be: cept the Zippies have taken But all protest groups exfour-part pledge of non-elderly people, Beach's huge community of (1) no disruption of Miami or police personnel, (2) no attacks on military ty damage, and (3) no trashing or proper-delegates. (4) no physical attacks on

Non-Violent Vow

"another Chicago." Davis, who promises "the GOP jamboree will not be ican history," adds that the most massive sit-in in Amer-Anti-war organizer Rennie newsmen, "it will be violent." "In every way," he tells

In the first Miami Beach

August 20, 1972 ☆☆☆ Section A Page 13 S. F. Sunday Examiner & Chronicle police action, 100 demonstrators were rousted from Flamingo Park — staging site for the protest groups — early last week. But that was because they had arrived before their lease started. Their park permit extends from this past Thursday until "24 hours after the conventon's final gavel."

A fundamental question that often gets lost is: Why have these people come to express their protest in the first place?

The protest coalition's Bob Lamb, 25, says he thinks it's basically opposition to the war.

"Yes," he says, "we constantly hear the argument that demonstrations are counter - productive. That our presence may just build sympathy for Nixon. But what other recourse do poor and young and minority people have? Nobody else represents us, so we have to represent ourselves, and take our case directly to the people who run the country.

"The only alternative is to stay home, sit back and hope Nixon will finally end the war. And with the bombing continually escalating in Vietnam, that doesn't appear too likely."

Oddly enough, the police department feels comfortable because of close working relationships it has established with one of the staunchest protest groups on the Miami Beach scene during the Democratic convention — the Vietnam Veterans Against the War.

Marshals

The VVAW's will be marshalls for the anti-GOP demonstrations and while, in the words of policeman Pete Corso, "those vets play lousy softball," local cops feel they are the best insurance toward keep brother demonstrators non-violent.

"The vets want to show they are opposed to the war, to violence and to the Administration," says Corso, "and they're not going to let a ny unfortunate incidents confuse those issues if they can help it."

In a softball game here the day before yesterday, by the way, the score was Cops 19, Vets 3.