Kissinger Report

Nixon Told of Viet Mission

Examiner News Service

THURMONT (Md.) — President Nixon received at his mountain hide-a-way last night a first-hand report from foreign affairs adviser Henry Kissinger on his mystery shrouded Vietnam mission.

Kissinger flew by helicopter to the Camp David presidential retreat immediately after his early evening return to Washington from the quick, round the world trip which spurred speculation of a possible breakthrough in Vietnam peace negotiations.

Kissinger reported on his trip at a dinner meeting with Nixon, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and Maj. Gen. Alexander M. Haig, No. 2 man to Kissinger on the National Security Council staff.

Tight Secrecy

Nixon's decision to hear Kissinger's report at Camp David was in keeping with the tight cover of secrecy which surrounded Kissinger's talks first with North Vietnamese peace negotiators in Paris and then with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu in Saigon.

No details have been made public concerning Kissinger's conference in Paris with North Vietnamese Politburo member Le Duc Tho or his two days of talks with Thieu.

Speculation has run the full range from imminent peace to protracted war. The few known facts would support almost any theory.

Hawaii Talks

In addition to reporting on his Vietnam talks, Kissinger will tell the President about his meeting yesterday with Prime Minister Kakuei Tanaka of Japan.

Kissinger stopped over in Tokyo to put the finishing touches on plans for Nixon's three-day meeting with Tanaka in Hawaii beginning Aug. 31.

The American and Japanese leaders are expected to talk about Japan's coming rapprochement with China and about pressing trade problems.
