

SFChronicle MAR 1 2 1973

White House Politics

New York

Presidential aide H.R. Haldeman has denied there is any jockeying for power among White House assistants, Newsweek magazine reported yesterday.

Haldeman, in an interview, told Newsweek that "none" of presidential aides are "politicians. We are not here because we had a burning desire to get to Washington and get power . . . We have strong disagreements and heated arguments about what ought to be done, but we encourage that."

United Press
