

Commerce Post Filled

Maurice H. Stans, the Secretary of Commerce, yesterday appointed John L. Jenkins, a black official of the department, to head minority business program, thus ending a behind-the-scenes struggle over the position.

Promoted from assistant director to director of the Office of Minority Business Enterprise, Mr. Jenkins succeeds Abraham [unclear] who resigned.

When [unclear] Mr. Stans [unclear] the last [unclear]

[unclear] will be named [unclear] here was speculation [unclear] the Post newsroom [unclear] it would be Howard [unclear] mons, deputy managing editor.

Will Mrs. Richard M. Nixon accompany the President to China? "I certainly would like to go," she said. "I haven't been invited yet." She said she didn't think plans for Mr. Nixon's journey were firm yet and added: "Some day I'll go."

In Federal Court in Brooklyn, Magistrate Max [unclear] man granted a release of the $50,000 bail [unclear] Augello, charged with possession of [unclear] drugs.

Counties, and under no conditions will he be allowed to move about in Brooklyn except that he may [unclear] barber there each [unclear] seems the reason [unclear]tain need [unclear]tinted