

Notes on People byline, Albin Krebs

20 Oct 71

capit-
called, "I ity; it rained."
quickly added "I en-Colombo."

Mrs. Patricia Nixon put an end to some suspense. "Oh, sure," she said, when asked whether she plans to go to Peking and Moscow with the President. She accompanied her husband to Moscow in 1959, when he was Vice President. As for China, she told reporters, "I'm getting all my Chinese clothes ready."

Charles E. Goodell, the former Senator from New York, will act as a special advisor to Daniel Ellsberg, charged with security clearance the

21 Oct 71

at reet. (Mr.
n't get off the
oll until mid-No-er.)

Getting back to Mrs. Richard M. Nixon's travel plans, it now appears it was a bit of a joke when she said the other day that she was getting her Chinese clothes ready because she was accompanying the President to Peking. There were hints at the White House that she may have been lobbying for an invitation to go along on the trip, but now there are indications that she probably won't be going to China. "I said it as a joke," Mrs. Nixon declared. "I don't know what the situation is until the plans are all made." Mrs. Nixon added that "I certainly do plan to go to Moscow" next May for the summit meeting.

Royalty has its rocky moments. For example, Ingrid of Denmark had to attend the anniversary of the monarchy the