

From Letter to the Editor:

.....

We cannot afford to deceive ourselves, nor can we afford any longer the luxury of deceit by Mr. Nixon. The bottom and the top of Watergate is the character of Mr. Nixon. Watergate is the inevitable fruit of a character for whom the ends have always justified the means - a character unconstrained by any conviction of principle or purpose except to rise to a place where no one can "kick him around."

.....

James E. Bryan