

Tour of Nixon Estate a Sellout

San Clemente

A bus tour still four months away of former President Nixon's compound has been sold out for three weeks.

"We've sold somewhere between 6000 and 8000 tickets (at $2.50 each)," a Chamber of Commerce spokesman said yesterday.

So, every ten minutes for eight hours on the last Sunday in February, buses packed with sightseers will wheel through Nixon's 22-acre estate which served as the "Western White House" during his administration and where he still lives. It's not known whether Nixon will be home during the tours.

The event is in conjunction with San Clemente's 50th anniversary celebration.

Associated Press