

Nixon's Book Party

Richard Nixon autographed a copy of his memoirs for a guest at a party at the former President's San Clemente estate given for friends and persons involved in the writing and publication of the book. The guests included James Roosevelt, son of the late President, as well as executives of the publishing firms of Grossett and Dunlap, the hardback publisher of the memoirs, and Warner Books, which will bring out the paperback edition.

AP Wirephoto