Dallas, Tex., July 30 (AP)- Marina Oswald today settled her ~~origin~~ suit against her former business manager and attorneys by agreeing to pay them $12,000 for the voidance of contracts she had signed with them last December.

Mrs. Oswald, mother of two young children, is the widow of accused presidential assassin Lee Harvey Oswald.

James H. Martin, who held a 10-year~~x~~ contract as her business manager, and Grand Prairie attorneys John M. Thorne and Paul W. Leech, who were to represent her legal interests, were not present.

The settlement came in Judge Dee Brown Walker's distric court.

The slim, blonde woman took the stand to explain -- in Russian and English -- that she agreed and asked for the settlement.

She now has approximately $59,000 from donations sent her by the American public following the death of Oswald last Nov. 24.

William A. McKenzie and Henry Baer appeared with Mrs. Oswald, as did Mr. and Mrs. <sup>D</sup>Geclan Ford of Dallas. Walter Magee was present for the defendants, Thorne, Martin and Leech.

The suit was filed April 17, asking that the contracts signed with Thorne and Martin on Dec. 5 and 6 and a trust fund set up Dec. 30 be declared null and void.

Mrs. Oswald claimed in the suit that she did not understand what she had signed with the two men.

She fired them Feb. 14 by registered letter, but both refused to voluntarily drop out of the contracts.

During the ensuing months Mrs. Oswald lived on donations sent her from through the world -- the biggest chunk coming from the Fort Worth Council of Churches donation fund -- plus several thousand dollars from publication rights .

The settlement agreed to state that the defendants would turn ove to Mrs. Oswald "any and all passbooks, monies, letters, documents, tape recordings, personel effects and property of any kind whatsoever" belonging to Marina or the two small Oswald children.

They must also transfer control of the Oswald trust fund ($25,000) to Mrs. Oswald and her children and must resign as the fund's directors.
