

Mma

Mrs. Oswald Settles Her Contract Suit

Dallas

Marina Oswald, widow of the accused presidential assassin, yesterday settled her suit against a former business manager and two attorneys.

She agreed to pay them $12,500 in return for voiding personal service contracts made last December.

The 24-year-old Mrs. Oswald, who has since hired new advisers, told District Judge Dee Brown Walker that she agreed to the settlement with James H. Martin, who held a ten-year contract as business manager, and attorneys John M. Thorne and Paul W. Leech.

She fired the men Febuary 14 by registered letter, but they refused to quit without a court fight.

Mrs. Oswald now has approximately $59,000 from donations sent her by the American public after her husband was killed by Jack Ruby on November 24. She also gains control of a $25,000 trust fund set up for her two daughters which the former advisers had charge of.

United Press

Apr. 18, AP, 304 ACS

She asked also for return to her of personal belongings including clothes, pictures, a manuscript and letters ...

Apr. 19, AP, 653 ACS

She asked in the suit that the contracts be voided and that all money be turned over to her, with $15,000 to the men as settlement.