George Jackson Effects Ordered Given to Mother

Marin County Superior Court Judge Joseph G. Wilson yesterday ordered San Quentin prison authorities to turn over all property of George Jackson to his mother or appear in court September 24 to explain why they did not do so.

Judge Wilson issued the order after attorneys representing Jackson's mother, Georgia Jackson, filed suit yesterday.

The property, held by San Quentin officials since Jackson was killed during an alleged escape attempt at the prison August 21, reportedly includes the unfinished manuscript of Jackson's second book on prison life.
