

Jacksons' Father Is 'Surprised'

Los Angeles

"I'm surprised at the verdict," said Lester Jackson, the father of slain brothers George and Jonathan Jackson, in response to the acquittal yesterday of Angela Davis.

"I'm also glad it's over — simply because maybe there is no further need to drag my sons' names through the mud," he said.

Jonathan Jackson was killed in the Marin county civic center gun battle which claimed four lives and led to Miss Davis' arrest. George Jackson was later killed at San Quentin in what authorities said was an escape attempt.

Our Correspondent
