Magee Group Pickets Justice Hall, Chronicle

A group calling itself Supporters of Ruchell Magee picketed the Hall of Justice and The Chronicle at lunchtime yesterday.

Eight pickets marched briefly in front of the Hall of Justice, then five of them moved their protest to The Chronicle, where a representative of the newspaper met with them to hear their complaints.

They charged that Superior Court Judge Morton Colvin favored the prosecution in his handling of Magee's current murder - kidnap trial, and that The Chronicle's coverage of the case was "distorted and biased," also in favor of the prosecution.
