Lawmen Chew Fat Jogging Away Pounds

By PATRICIA GORMIN

What's the topic of conversation when the assistant director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the superintendent of a metropolitan police force

In the early-morning hours today, Cartha D. DeLoach, assistant director of the FBI, Washington, and police Supt. Joseph thorough investigation is under
I. Giarrusso ambled along the way to determine who actually lakefront and discussed prob-caused the street disorders.

lute need for physical training in the field of law enforcement:
"The physical appearance of a policeman can either instill or destroy confidence."

Tolerach said, There is all absolute the serious trimes committed by julcium, the physical training veniles, 61 per cent last year.

He praised the behavior of convention delegates (saying a policeman can either instill there has been only one arrest for drunkenness) and said "high-the American Legion convener have a place in the serious tion. He has served as chairbusiness of the American Leman of the group's public relagion. tions commission since 1959.

One area of particular interest to DeLoach and the Legion is law enforcement, and De-Loach said the organization is "well adapted for assisting lo-cal communities in the effort."

THE LEGION has state or department chapters which work with local agencies for "improved training, equipment and salaries for police officers," he

Another matter of concern for the Legion is employment of veterans of the Vietnam con-

In an open letter to DeLoach, columnist Drew Pearson recently urged that the Legion lend its weight in helping promote job opportunities for both Ne-gro and white veterans.

DELOACH SAID today the Legion is stepping up its activities along this line, but that the organizaton has stressed the importance of employment op-portunities for war returnees for some time.

DeLoach refused to comment on the recent disturbances in Chicago, saying only that a lems of mutual concern.

HE NOTED A general national trend which he termed "unfortunate and alarming"—that daily constitutional, De-Loach said, "There is an absolute need for physical treining years of the upswing in the incidence of serious crimes committed by julying filmen contribute provides of the street disorders.

DeLoach is in town to attend jinks and tomfoolery" no long-