

Wallace Reschedules Visit in Maryland

Montgomery, Ala.

George C. Wallace, who had previously announced a decision not to campaign in Maryland where he was shot four years ago, yesterday scheduled a last-minute campaign appearance there on the day before the state's primary.

Campaign manager Charles S. Snider announced Wallace will hold a news conference at his campaign headquarters in Wheaton, Md., Monday afternoon. It will be his only appearance of the campaign in the state which holds a primary Tuesday.

Wallace's office had announced last week he would return to Laurel, the town where he was shot by Arthur Bremer, on Saturday, the fourth anniversary of the shooting. That visit was called off Monday.
