

News Summary and Index

NYTimes THURSDAY, APRIL 11, 1974 APR 11 1974

The Major Events of the Day

International

Premier Golda Meir of Israel announced her resignation, bringing down her month-old coalition Government and setting the stage for new elections in the next several months. Mrs. Meir said she had found it impossible to continue because of deep divisions within her Labor party over the issue of assigning responsibility for Israel's military shortcomings at the beginning of the October war. Mrs. Meir and her Cabinet will operate on a caretaker basis until a new Government is formed in Israel. [1:8.]

Diplomats and Administration officials in Washington said they expected the United States to continue its efforts for an Israeli-Syrian disengagement agreement despite Mrs. Meir's resignation. Though warning that her resignation could cause problems, the experts expressed confidence that a caretaker government headed by Mrs. Meir would be able to negotiate an accord. [10:4.]

The second-largest French labor union has endorsed François Mitterrand, the lone candidate of the political Left in the nation's presidential campaign. The unsolicited move by the French Democratic Confederation of Labor, which has never before endorsed a leftist candidate for the presidency, is a major worry to the Gaullist-led Government coalition. Since the lively, 700,000-member union is largely Roman Catholic, the Government is afraid other traditionally centrist Catholics may be swayed by the endorsement to vote for Mr. Mitterrand. [5:3-8.]

Soviet trade with capitalist nations rose more than 40 per cent last year, according to figures released by Moscow, which indicated that for the first time the West accounted for more than a quarter of Soviet international trade. By the Soviet accounting, American trade more than doubled to $1.56-billion in 1973. [1:7-8.]

National

The Commissioner of Internal Revenue has asked for a grand jury investigation into a possible criminal conspiracy stemming from President Nixon's claim of a $576,000 tax deduction for his Vice-Presidential papers, according to well-placed sources. The sources said that Donald C. Alexander had discussed the matter with Leon Jaworski, the special Watergate prosecutor last week and given him a list of former Presidential associates to be investigated. [1:1.]

The Other News

International

Poorer lands urged to control resources. Page 1
Whitlam announces plans for Australian election. Page 3
Pakistan apologizes to Bangladesh on troops. Page 3
Cease-fire violation is reported in Laos. Page 5
Ethiopian Premier can't shout Parliament. Page 6
Saudis worried over effects of Watergate. Page 9
Israel envoy rebuts Syrian on shelling. Page 10
Mrs. Meir's career long and turbulent. Page 10
Vatican amends remarks on Jerusalem. Page 11

Government and Politics

Pentagon opposes bill curbing surveillance. Page 8
Reinecke asks trial before primary. Page 14
Democrats say state has unusable surplus. Page 17
Environment chief is questioned by Senators. Page 19
Ford and Nixon both campaign in Michigan. Page 27
Dole gains by Docking's decision. Page 36

Energy

Two-month earnings soar at Occidental. Page 49

General

Chief judge defends judiciary on discipline. Page 13
Prosecution and defense clash at Boyle trial. Page 15
Eleven are missing after tanker explosions. Page 20
Names of 1,200 Merit Scholars announced. Page 62

Industry and Labor

"Tramp printer" tradition follows of dispute. Page 25
Education and Welfare City U. tenure policy debated at hearing. Page 41

Health and Science

Study aids understanding of genetic operation. Page 7
"Plume" view of earth supported. Page 21
Breast cancer rate in families assessed. Page 22

Amusements and the Arts

Bartzin conducts Dvorak Requiem Mass. Page 28

Quotation of the Day

"This is an inevitable step for me. This is a burden I no longer want to bear. Don't ask me to change my mind, this is final."—Premier Golda Meir of Israel, announcing her resignation. [1:8.]

Sports

6 Gerald Murphy paintings at the Modern. Page 28
Lowell and Strand get poetry prizes. Page 28
Gaines' "Heaven and Hell's Agreement" opens. Page 29
"Lucha" back in City Opera repertory. Page 29
Buddy Rich sparks jazz at own club. Page 30
Hyams' "Our Time" opens at Sutton. Page 31
On the lam in "Thomasine and Bushrod". Page 31
"Death, Sleep and Traveler," book, reviewed. Page 39

Going Out Guide

Family/Style If he likes squash, he immortalizes it. Page 40
Easter gifts: jeweled eggs to a pinata. Page 40

Consumer Notes

Obituaries Philip Wilkite, son of Presidential candidate. Page 36
Patricia Collinge, stage and film actress. Page 36

Business and Financial

Prices of stocks close narrowly mixed. Page 49
Celanese gets proposals from feminists. Page 49
New rules are sought for foreign banks. Page 49
Orange Utilities' electric sales drop. Page 49
Silverberg expected to head Interstate Stores. Page 49
I.B.M. reports record for first-quarter net. Page 49
Nation's retail sales rose 2% in March. Page 49

Personal Finance

Liability for credit cards. Page 49
Julie Eisenhower nominated for Curtis post. Page 55

Advertising News	59	Corn	57
Amer. Exchange	57	Market Averages	56
Bond Sales	56	Market Place	56
Business Briefs	55	Money	56
Commodities	57	Mutual Funds	58
Diversides	56	N.Y. Stock Exch.	50
Foreign Exchange	56	Out-of-Town	69
		Over the Counter	58

Notes on People

Man in the News Teng Hsiang-ping, Chinese who made comeback. Page 12

Editorials and Comment

Anthony Lewis on reaction to Nixon tax trouble. Page 35
William Safire views Mr. Ford "off the record." Page 35
Spartak Beglov assails U.S. anti-Sovietism. Page 35
George Higgins: How stupid is stupid? Page 35

News Analysis

Flora Lewis analyzes French Presidential race. Page 4

CORRECTION

An article in The New York Times yesterday reported erroneously that the Getty Oil Company would raise prices, beginning today, on home heating fuel, diesel fuel, jet fuel (JP5) and certain petroleum blending agents. The price rises became effective April 4.