

News Summary and Index

TUESDAY, MAY 7, 1974 MAY 7 1974

The Major Events of the Day

International

Chancellor Willy Brandt of West Germany, taking responsibility for "negligence" that allowed an East German Communist spy to become a member of his staff, took the unexpected step of tendering his resignation to President Gustav W. Heinemann. He asked that Foreign Minister Walter Scheel be named to fill his place until the Bundestag elects a successor. [1:8.]

The Senate, voting 43 to 38, rejected an Administration request for $266-million in additional military aid for South Vietnam. Senator Edward M. Kennedy led the Democratic-sponsored attack, which resulted in a serious setback to the Administration's foreign policy. [1:5.]

Portugal's ruling military junta appealed for a cease-fire in her African territories. Gen. Francisco da Costa Gomes, a member of the junta and chief of the joint defense staff, promised that guerrilla forces opposing Portugal would be able to participate in free political activity leading to a referendum on the territories' future. [1:7.]

The United States and the Soviet Union announced unexpectedly that Secretary of State Kissinger would fly from Israel today to confer in Cyprus with the Soviet Foreign Minister, Andrei A. Gromyko, who has been in Syria, on the Middle East and over-all Soviet-American relations. [1:6-7.]

The International Monetary Fund announced in Washington that Arab and other oil-producing nations had "indicated their willingness to lend to the fund" about $2.75-billion to help establish a special new "oil facility" that would lend money to oil importing countries at a time when nearly all these countries will have deficits in their balance of payments because of higher petroleum prices. [1:7-8.]

National

President Nixon backed down from his opposition to the Watergate special prosecution subpoena for tapes and records of 64 White House conversations. He indicated through his lawyers he was willing to reach an "accommodation" with the prosecution. And, also through his lawyers, he won a five-day delay in the legal proceedings over the subpoena that had been shaping up as another major battle in the courts. [1:1.]

The Other News

International

Rose Dugdale, heiress turned revolutionary. Page 1
Lefists vow to support Peron despite rebuff. Page 2
Peron will visit Soviet Union this year. Page 2

Neither side yields in India's rail crisis. Page 3
U.S. officials see a stalemate in Vietnam. Page 3
One Portuguese: glad but uncertain. Page 4
Communists take a hamlet in Vietnam. Page 5

Government and Politics
Bill passed to let distillers own wineries. Page 12
Capital voting on home-rule charter. Page 26
Sixty in Congress disclose net worth. Page 28
Wallace expected to win Alabama primary. Page 30
Only slight shift seen in Senate make-up. Page 31
Officials and bar heads back legal services bill. Page 32
"Transcript stirs fear of ex-cision. Page 39
Ramsey Clark enters U.S. Senate race. Page 47

Energy
Soviet Union seeks speed for oil exploitation. Page 63
Royalty bidding is set on oil leases. Page 63

General
Indians urge tourist boycott of South Dakota. Page 10
The News to introduce "cold-type" process. Page 19
Meskill signs repeal of rape law. Page 79

Industry and Labor
The News is set to bypass its printers. Page 18
Printers cited in delay at Washington Post. Page 19

Education and Welfare
Variance found in driver-education costs. Page 77

Amusements and the Arts
"Democracy and Its Discontents" reviewed. Page 49
"Mona Lisa" goes commercial in Tokyo. Page 52
Producers back Schubert Foundation trustees. Page 52
Joan Miller dancers give "Yes, capades." Page 53
Students' songs enliven Lincoln Center plaza. Page 54
Filmed "Lost in the Stars" at selected theaters. Page 54
McCord retracts taped television discussion. Page 79

Going Out Guide Page 54

Family/Style
Women's conference held on health care. Page 50
Children bring pets to be blessed by clergy. Page 50

Obituaries
Robert Cream, won Emmy for TV play. Page 44
Frank W. Begrish, investment broker. Page 44
Alfred R. Ferguson, Emerson scholar. Page 44

Business and Financial
Stock market drops in slow trading. Page 63
Northrop head quits U.S. Steel board. Page 63
Bethlehem bars comeback in steel output. Page 63
World trade soared 36 percent last year. Page 63
Taiwan faces losses in export market. Page 71
People and Business: Bond trading changes. Page 76

Advertising News	73	Grains	72
Amer. Exchange	72	Market	Averages 66
Bond Sales	70	Market	Place 64
Business Briefs	74	Money	65
Business Records	66	Mutual Funds	61
Commodities	72	N.Y. Stock Exchange	64
Dividends	72	Out-of-Town	60
Foreign Exchange	70	Over the Counter	61

Health and Science
Specialists weigh world problems and priorities. Page 15
E.P.A. criticizes breeder reactor statement. Page 25
White House scored on aid to White House. Page 29

Quotation of the Day
"I've done everything I can for her. She knows perfectly well she could turn to me if she wanted to. The whole thing is tragic."—James Frederic Compton Dugdale, wealthy Briton and father of Bridget Rose Dugdale, jailed in Irish art theft. [10:6.]

3 more from N.F.L. jump to rival league. Page 57
Mets' homers, runs exceed 1973 pace. Page 57
World Team Tennis makes its debut. Page 57
Nets on record pace in bid for A.B.A. title. Page 57
Maravich trade: A plot to get Thompson. Page 58
Polic and Austrians add new twists to tennis. Page 59

Notes on People Page 51

Men in the News
Francois Mitterrand, Valéry Giscard d'Estaing, the contenders in France. Page 14

Editorials and Comment
Tom Wicker discusses paying for trial defense. Page 43
Russell Baker: If everyone edited the tapes... Page 43
James Brown on filmmaking the budget. Page 43
Strom Thurmond on control of Panama Canal. Page 43

News Analysis
Robert J. Cole examines high note rates. Page 63

CORRECTIONS

The name of Merrye S. Rukeyser, who is the author of the syndicated column "Everybody's Money" was erroneously included along with his wife's name in the index of names printed in the death announcement advertisement column in The New York Times of April 30. Marjorie Rukeyser died April 29. The Times regrets the error.

The chart accompanying an article in The Times yesterday on oil companies' dividends and the prices of their stocks was inaccurate. The corrected chart appears on Page 69.