Early returns from Japan's provinces showed that the ruling Liberal-Democratic party was likely to hold its majority in the election for the upper house of Parliament. In the heaviest voting on record for the Upper House, the Liberal-Democrats had won 37 of the first 54 contests decided. [1:8-1]

Marco Falucci, a 12-year-old Roman boy, and his sister Angela, 10, were not taken to the beach by their father. The family stayed instead on a sweltering Sunday at their apartment near the Colosseum. The head of the family said that he could not afford the higher price of gasoline or the ice cream, soft drinks and pizza that they would buy at the beach. A similar glumness pervaded households throughout Italy as a result of the new taxes and other austerity measures announced by the Government Saturday. "From today we are all a bit poorer," a headline in Il Globo of Rome said. [1:7-8-1]

Repulsing a fierce attack that lasted 89 minutes, West Germany gained a 2-1 victory over the Netherlands in the World Cup soccer final at the Olympic Stadium in Munich. In an electrifying atmosphere before a capacity crowd, including Secretary of State Kissinger and dignitaries from many other countries, the Dutch with overwhelming speed scored in the first minute of the game, but the Germans, shocked and confused, rallied and scored twice before the half was over and kept the Dutch scoreless for the rest of the game. The Germans will be the reigning soccer champions at least until the next World Cup tournament is held in Argentina four years from now. [1:4-6-1]

The Supreme Court will begin hearings this morning in a highly charged political atmosphere on two cases that will have profound legal and personal implications for President Nixon and his former aides, six of whom are accused of conspiring to cover up the Watergate burglary. The Justices—there will be only eight because Associate Justice William H. Rehnquist has disqualified himself—will consider two questions: Can President Nixon refuse to surrender 64 tape recordings subpoenaed by the Federal District Court on the ground of executive privilege? Can the Watergate grand jury name President Nixon as a participant in
