

The Major Events of the Day

International

Secretary General Waldheim of the United Nations and the leaders of the Greek Cypriot and Turkish Cypriot administrations of Cyprus conferred in Nicosia. They agreed that their discussions had made some progress toward an eventual solution of the Cyprus crisis. President Glafkos Clerides, the Greek Cypriot leader, and Rauf Denktaş, head of the Turkish Cypriot administration, met for the first time since the Geneva conference on the Cyprus problem collapsed two weeks ago. [1:5.]

Portugal signed an agreement, effective Sept. 10, granting independence to Portuguese Guinea, ending 500 years of dominance over the West African territory. President Antonio di Spínola pledged to remove all troops by Oct. 31. A troop airlift has already begun. Thus Portugal began the dissolution of her African empire. However, difficult negotiations are ahead with nationalists of Angola and Mozambique. [1:2-4.]

National

Farm crops may not be so bountiful this fall as in past years, but "there is absolutely no basis for panic" about the available food supply in the United States this year or in 1975, Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz told a news conference that was held to allay that fear. Mr. Butz and his aides said: food prices continue to rise; reduced foreign demand will ease the impact of the recent drought on supplies of corn and other livestock feed grains; this country will have plenty of beef in the coming year despite the smaller harvests of feed grains, and there will be less pork and chicken. [1:8.]

President Ford's "summit conference" on inflation will be held in Washington on Sept. 27 and 28 and will be preceded by a series of preliminary meetings between Administration officials and state and local government officials and representatives of individual sectors of the economy. The White House press secretary said the President had set five goals for the summit. Among these are clarification of the nation's economic condition and identification of the causes of inflation. [1:6-7.]

Charles A. Lindbergh, whose nonstop flight from New York to Paris in 1927 in the monoplane "Spirit of St. Louis" made history—the way he first man to fly the At-

The Other News

International

Athens reported to ignore U.S. appeal on talks. Page 3
Turkey doubts guerrilla effectiveness. Page 4
Manila charges Jesuit leader with rebellion. Page 7
Ethiopia's military seeks talks with Eritreans. Page 8
Newsmen admitted to South-West African area. Page 14

Government and Politics

Saxte favors no prison for draft evaders. Page 10
Shortage of funds hampers Florida candidates. Page 11
New procedures stir turmoil at Elections Board. Page 36
Open schools pose problem on primary day. Page 38
City bar group approves Kuhn and Morgenthau. Page 38
Jesuit aide calls Nixon personality "flawed." Page 52

General

1,300 gather data in fields for crop reports. Page 15
Grant aids law instruction in California schools. Page 20
Gold cross stolen from St. John the Divine. Page 29
Penney drops plan to disperse headquarters staff. Page 32
Metropolitan Briefs. Page 33
Feminist credit union opens in New Haven. Page 33
Bus tour and rally mark Women's Equality Day. Page 33
Many cities gaining in housing funds. Page 52
Reports increase on child abuse in state. Page 53
Slaying suspect was paroled as a "good risk." Page 53
Reputed drug dealer found slain. Page 54

Health and Science

U.S. plant scientists start China visit. Page 13
Two in hospital fracas face court today. Page 38

Amusements and the Arts

Lang's "testament of Dr. Mabuse" reappears. Page 25
Moses issues acerbic rebuttal to "Power Broker." Page 25
Cultures meet at Iran arts festival. Page 26
Met at "T," preparing for new season. Page 26

Quotation of the Day

"In spite of the disappointing prospect of farm crops this fall, there is absolutely no basis for panic on the food supply in the United States this year or in 1975."—Secretary of Agriculture Earl L. Butz. [1:8.]

Modern sculpture show irritates Genevans.

Page 27
Book about Holmes and Freud is reviewed. Page 37
CBS-TV's "American Parade" views Kansas. Page 55

Going Out Guide

Page 26
Family/Style
Rockefeller homes: "Comfortable elegance." Page 34
She designs a collection of discreet baubles. Page 34

Obituaries

President pays tribute to Lindbergh. Page 17
Parisians recall "Jeune Americain." Page 17

Business and Financial

Stocks end day mixed after late recovery. Page 41
Rate on Treasury bills breaks record. Page 41
Ford cutting output of Pinto subcompacts. Page 41
Former officer sues Franklin New York. Page 41
Prices raised on TV tubes and chemicals. Page 41
Common Market said to weigh loans. Page 41
Quaker Oats earnings up in quarter. Page 41
Woolworth net declined 16% in quarter. Page 41
Savings study cites other risks' outflow up. Page 41

Advertising News

Page 46
Business Briefs: 50 Money 45
Business Records: 45 Mutual Funds 39
Commodities: 52 N.Y. Stock Exch.: 42
Dividends: 43 Out-of-Town 48
Foreign Exchange: 48 Over the Counter: 39

Sports

Key to the Kingdom wins as Belmont re-opens. Page 21
Mets, fans remember 1973 day of comeback. Page 21
Yanks try to extend victory streak to six. Page 21
Stratler, defender, upset in U.S. Amateur golf. Page 21
Storm gathers over Moses Malone case. Page 21

Promoters worrying about Foreman-All Bout.

Page 21
Chris Evert wins her 10th straight tourney. Page 21
Southern Cross makes it 3 in row over France. Page 22
Thompson put on waivers by Jets. Page 22
Ailing Connors plans to play in U.S. Open. Page 23
People in Sports: Sam Jones resigns as coach. Page 23
U.S. swim team is picked for East German meet. Page 24

Notes on People

Page 35
Editorials and Comment
Editorials and Letters. Page 30
Russell Baker on heroes of marginal living. Page 31
William Shannon views the cult of crisis. Page 31
Graham Hovey on Kissinger's Cyprus trouble. Page 31
John Clive: what historians bring to history. Page 31

News Analysis

Sydney H. Schanberg on Cambodian prospects. Page 6
Richard D. Lyons discusses health insurance. Page 20

CORRECTIONS

An article in The New York Times yesterday misquoted part of a statement by Johnny Miller after his victory in the Westchester Golf Classic. The quotation should have read, "No amount of success can compensate for failure in the home."

An article in The Times yesterday erroneously reported that the State Department of Correction intended to raise the incentive payments to prisoners taking academic and vocational courses. The increased scales took effect on Aug. 1, reducing the basic payment from 25 cents to 55 cents a day.