

News Summary and Index

NTimes THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1974 NOV 14 1974

The Major Events of the Day

International

Yasir Arafat, the head of the Palestine Liberation Organization, told the United Nations General Assembly that his organization's goal remained a Palestinian state that would include Moslems, Christians and Jews. Israel's delegate, Yosef Tekoah, said in rebuttal that this would mean the destruction of Israel and the substitution of an Arab state. [Page 1, Column 8.]

In the Israeli-occupied Arab town of Nablus on the Jordan's West Bank, shopkeepers staged a general strike and hundreds of children demonstrated in the town square in a display of support for the Palestine Liberation Organization and its leader, Yasir Arafat. Israeli policeman and paratroopers wielding clubs charged the jeering and whistling crowds of schoolchildren, chasing them into narrow side streets. No injuries were reported. [1:5.]

National

President Ford's energy chief, Rogers C. B. Morton, expressed strong interest in a big increase in the Federal gasoline tax—perhaps 10 cents a gallon—to help discourage consumption, reduce oil imports and drive down world oil prices. Mr. Morton, who is Secretary of the Interior, said that despite Mr. Ford's decision not to ask Congress for the tax increase, the matter was still alive. [1:4.]

Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller told a Senate committee that his involvement with a biography of Arthur J. Goldberg, his political opponent in 1970, was the most embarrassing episode of his political life, but he angrily denied it was comparable to the "dirty tricks" of the Watergate period. [1:1.]

Gen. George S. Brown, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, has expressed his regrets for comments made a month ago in which he suggested Israel has undue political influence here and that Jews control the newspapers and the banks in this country. General Brown says that his remarks, made Oct. 10 at Duke University, were "unfortunate," "ill-considered," "unfounded" and "all too casual," and do not represent his convictions. [1:6-7.]

Negotiators for the coal industry and the United Mine Workers reportedly reached an agreement on a new labor-management contract that could end the two-day miners' strike by Nov. 25, after only a two-week work stoppage. [1:2-3.]

Six and a half years after American soldiers massacred civilians at My Lai in South Vietnam, the Army has formally released a report telling how the crime was covered up throughout the military command structure. The release of the report, according to Secretary of the Army Howard H. Calloway, concludes "a dark chapter" in the Army's history. [16:4-6.]

Metropolitan

The State Commission of Investigation is looking into possible corruption in the award by the city's Board of Education and local school districts of multi-million-dollar contracts for program evaluations and other services. Board of Education officials met with a representative of the Corporation Counsel's office to discuss possible grounds for a suit against one concern. [1:4-5.]

Mayor Joseph L. Alioto of San Francisco, after a meeting here with Mayor Beame, predicted that Congress would pass a mass-transit aid bill before Christmas. Mayor Beame said the Federal aid would "come very close" to saving New York City's 35-cent transit fare. "We're sanguine about getting a bill before Christmas," Mr. Alioto said. "We'll come close to meeting the needs of the 35-cent fare." Mr. Beame said hesitantly, adding, "If there's a small difference, we'll try very hard to work it out." [49:1-3.]

A dawn trip by Arab leader Yasir Arafat by Army helicopter from Kennedy International Airport to the United Nations headquarters highlighted one of the most exceptional efforts by security forces here to protect a foreign dignitary from hostility and possible assassination attempts. Mr. Arafat's associates were moved from the airport to the United Nations in a motorcade causing morning rush-hour traffic jams. [25:1.]

Governor-elect Hugh L. Carey has promised to take every safeguard in screening new state appointees by going beyond the usual state police investigation and using the city's Department of Investigation and his own special review panel. Mr. Carey emphasized his concern for the ethical complexion of his administration and announced a "transition council" of 60 men and women to assist in shaping the new executive branch taking office Jan. 1. [1:2.]

The Other News

International

Hard times sadden India's most joyous holiday. Page 4
Trudeau cautions ministers on free junkies. Page 5
Angola coalition plan with rebels put aside. Page 6
Portugal may quit NATO nuclear group. Page 7
Supplies to avert famine in doubt. Page 8
Economic protests in Israel are continuing. Page 9
Hussein frees Palestinian prisoners in gesture. Page 25

Government and Politics

Democratic reformers seek power in House. Page 11
Rogers discloses plans on drilling leases. Page 15
Graft report shatters morale in city office. Page 33
Rockefeller reserving right to contest tax claim. Page 38
La Rue links Mitchell to payments to burglars. Page 53

General

Gunfire hits police car in textbook dispute. Page 12
Halt in markups on food held ineffective. Page 13
Metropolitan Briefs. Page 49
Yunich says Con Ed rate rise could doom fare. Page 49
Beame orders speedup on Bellevue work. Page 49
Goldin reports $166-million backlog for tickets. Page 49
25 move to block 4 per cent air-fare rise. Page 86

Health and Science

Cyclamate peril is denied by maker. Page 17
Scientists produce sorghum with high protein. Page 18
Nursing home's records found irregular. Page 19

Amusements and the Arts

"Billion Dollar Baby," by Bob Greene, reviewed. Page 51
John Wood talks about his role as Holmes. Page 55
Art collected by Freud shown at museum. Page 56
City Ballet begins season in fine form. Page 57
"Trial of Billy Jack" arrives on screen. Page 58
Claire Coci plays new Carnegie Hall organ. Page 58

Quotations of the Day

"I have come bearing an olive branch and a freedom fighter's gun. Do not let the olive branch fall from my hand."—Yasir Arafat, addressing the United Nations General Assembly. [23:4.]

"Israel will not permit the establishment of P.L.O. authority in any part of Palestine. The P.L.O. will not be forced on the Palestinian Arabs. It will not be tolerated by the Jews of Israel."—Yosef Tekoah. [24:4.]

Whitney film follows black seminarian. Page 58

ABC-TV cancels three more programs. Page 87

Going Out Guide Page 56

Family/Style

Rijstafel and other delicacies from Bali. Page 60

A lesbian wins seat in Massachusetts Legislature. Page 60

Consumer Notes Page 61

Obituaries

Vittorio De Sica, the film director. Page 48

Business and Financial

A.M.C. reports $7-million loss in quarter. Page 69

Oilmen score U.S. inaction on energy. Page 69

Nov. 1-10 car sales off by 38 per cent. Page 69

Needham weighs compromise on stock fees. Page 69

British trade deficit deepened in October. Page 69

I.T.T.'s earnings fell 12.9% in third quarter. Page 69

Bond market is spurred by easing of money. Page 69

Fed to restructure reserve requirements. Page 69

Unlever reports quarter drop in net. Page 71

Page

Advertising News: 82

Grains: 79

Market Averages: 71

Bank Exchange: 76

Market Place: 70

Real Estate: 76

Money: 70

Business Briefs: 70

Money: 70

Business Records: 78

Mutual Funds: 80

Commodities: 79

N.Y. Stock Exch.: 78

Out-of-Town: 78

Over the Counter: 80

Sports

Ithaca wins Lambert Bowl for first time. Page 62
Nine favorites sweep card at Aqueduct. Page 62
$100,000 mile run is studied for Astrodome. Page 63
Patriots, Jets' foe, plagued by fan violence. Page 63
Homesick Knicks quit rugged Oregon Trail. Page 63

CORRECTIONS

An article in The New York Times Tuesday incorrectly reported that the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company was sponsoring a new program of educational grants for which colleges, universities and secondary schools would be eligible. The program, to create better understanding between the business and academic worlds, will be available only to four-year colleges and universities.

A Palestine Liberation Organization spokesman said that Randia Khalidi, identified in a picture caption in early editions of The New York Times yesterday as an interpreter and secretary, is a full member of the delegation to the United Nations General Assembly.