

News Summary and Index

NY Times

MONDAY, AUGUST 9, 1976

AUG 9 1976

The Major Events of the Day

International

Pakistan's refusal, despite intense American pressure, to drop plans to develop its own nuclear reprocessing plant has brought relations between the two countries to a near crisis. Secretary of State Henry A. Kissinger arrived in Lahore yesterday for talks with Prime Minister Zulfikar Ali Bhutto. It was understood that Mr. Kissinger was prepared to tell Mr. Bhutto not only that the United States Government would not permit the sale of fighter-bombers to Pakistan but that all American economic aid might be cut off unless the Pakistanis yielded on the issue. [Page 1, Column 5.]

Efforts to bring about a cease-fire in Lebanon became dead-locked. Leftists and Palestinians accused Syrian forces of deliberately delaying a cease-fire that had been scheduled for last Thursday to enable the rightists to occupy more territory. Fighting raged in Beirut's commercial center, already devastated, and there were clashes in the suburbs and around the beleaguered Palestinian refugee camp of Tell Zaatar, where the International Red Cross has had to suspend its evacuation of the wounded. The leftist press predicted a new all-out attack on the camp by rightist Christians following the capture by Christians of the nearby Moslem enclave of Al Nabaa. [3:1-2.]

National

President Ford said that he wants a middle-of-the-road Republican as a running mate, not someone as "extreme" as Senator Richard S. Schweiker, Ronald Reagan's choice for Vice President. Mr. Ford said that putting Mr. Schweiker on the Reagan ticket "hasn't produced results" for Mr. Reagan. The President made his remarks in an interview that was released for publication to coincide with the second anniversary of his accession to the Presidency. Meantime, John B. Connally, who has been believed to be a likely running mate on the Ford ticket, said it was "highly questionable" whether he would agree to run for Vice President. [1:8.]

President Ford went to Philadelphia, where he made a brief address at the closing session of the 41st International Eucharistic Congress and he told the audience of about 100,000 Roman Catholics that he shared

The Other News

International
Soviet woman trapped in ambiguity. Page 1
Vietnam's care for homeless children described. Page 2
Sudan's "invasion" charge to be investigated. Page 2
New Syrian Cabinet implies continuity. Page 2
Chemical peril in Italy fans abortion debate. Page 2
14 are hurt in bombings in Cairo. Page 3
Sovets calm with police on guard. Page 3
Poland expects wide reforms after riots. Page 4
Schmidt's "Eastern policies" focus of elections. Page 5
India probably used U.S. material in bomb. Page 6

Government and Politics
Carter moves to close party wounds. Page 12
Carter denies knowledge of "payments." Page 13

General
Indian schools turn to pride and culture. Page 1
Aftermath of a crime: 10 lives in ruins. Page 1
Tired Harris jury takes Sunday off. Page 16
Texas lawyer bids to head A.B.A. Report says economy could aid urban areas. Page 16
Roselli, crime figure, is found slain. Page 16
The soul of Coney Island survives. Page 25
Tartarulas elude web of Federal rules. Page 25
Heavy rains plague New York City area. Page 25
Viking lander boom put back in action. Page 26
Goldin criticizes Board of Education on funds. Page 26
Metropolitan Briefs. Page 27

Metropolitan
New York City's Housing Court, generally said to be better than the chaotic system it had replaced three years ago, is severely beset by delays, poor coordination with other housing agencies and seriously inadequate staff and quarters, according to legal and housing specialists. The courts' harshest critics, particularly some real-estate people, believe it has a long way to go before it can become the long-sought catalyst for reform that at was intended to be. [38:1-4.]

Quotation of the Day

"If I find those who have knowledgeably, knowingly, intentionally deceived me, I will take some action."
—Clarence M. Kelley, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, referring to aides who withheld information about illegal burglaries by bureau agents. [1:1.]

Industry and Labor
U.S. hints of limiting teamster fund inquiry. Page 24

Religion
100,000 at Eucharistic party hear Pope and Ford. Page 1
French Bishop in clash with Vatican. Page 3

Amusements and the Arts
Milwaukee dancers appears in Massachusetts. Page 28
Ballet stars find fun making movie. Page 28
Murray Louis' troupe performs "Glances." Page 29
Television workshop meets in Connecticut. Page 39

Going Out Guide Page 28
About New York Page 30
Family/Style
A conversation on Kansas City eating places. Page 14
How sleep-overs go at Walden Day Camp. Page 14
Mushrooms, snow peas and taste subtleties. Page 14

Obituaries
Edward Kolevzon, former Bronx school official. Page 26

Business and Financial
Japan's economy rebounding as exports rise. Page 31
Downward trend for rates is likely. Page 31
Bowers Savings Bank is now second biggest. Page 31

Selling a cooperative apartment?

Sell it through a classified ad in The New York Times. Call (212) 0X 5-3311 between 9 A.M. and 5:30 P.M.

The New York Times

Clergymen finding a call from industry. Page 31
U.S. handbag makers battle importers. Page 31
Personal Finance: Prepaying a mortgage. Page 31
Europeans seek more sales in Japan. Page 31
Washington and Business: Political timidity. Page 31
Commodities: Trading in futures options. Page 33

Advertising News 34
Mutual Funds ... 32
Dividends ... 33
Personal Finance 31

Sports

Orioles beat Yanks, 8-5, for 6th time in row. Page 17
Mets down Pirates, 7-4, as Lolich wins 7th. Page 17
Rain stalls B.C. golf; finish scheduled today. Page 17
Commons struggles to top Franulovich, gain final. Page 17
Jets, Giants meet tonight in preseason game. Page 17
Britton retains M.G.A. amateur crown, 3 and 2. Page 18
Veckl introduces short pants to big leagues. Page 19
Lynn signs with Red Sox and ends holdout. Page 19
Marcis wins the Talladega 500 stock-car race. Page 20
Defeat damages the Cosmos' pennant hopes. Page 20
Yepremian excels as Dolphins beat Lions. Page 21
Yorkie named best in show for 2d day in row. Page 21

Man in the News
Dr. Norman Lamn, new Yeshiva U.S. president. Page 24

Editorials and Comment

Editorials and Letters. Page 22
Anthony Lewis: Britain in Transition, Part II. Page 23
William Safire finds built-in Japanese corruption. Page 23
William L. Roper finds Americans are disgusted. Page 23
Drs. Geiger and Sidel: choos-ing med students. Page 23