

from column by Vera Glaser and Malvina Stephenson, datelined
Washington:

... danger on the black scene.

A GOP congressional leader and fund-raiser is furious at the "extravagance" of the Committee to Re-elect the President. "They're squandering it on cases of Chivas Regal scotch, big cigars and rented limousines," he complained. "That's no way to run a campaign."

The high priority given by the GOP to wooing Democrats in this campaign became obvious again last week when Minnesota money-bags Dwayne Andreas was seated at First Lady Pat Nixon's table at a big party. Andreas reportedly has given several hundred thousand dollars to Senator Hubert Humphrey (Dem-Minn.) but his cash is flowing into GOP coffers now.

George McGovern's wife Eleanor is more than