NYTimes

AUG 3 0 1972

HE NEW YORK TIMES, WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 30, 1972

Ex-White House Aide Testifies On Democratic Office Break-In

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—E. suit's pretrial discovery phase. Howard Hunt, a former White The session was reported to House consultant whose name has been mentioned in the investigation of the June 17 have entered the building early break-in at the Democratic national headquarters here, apuntil that hour. peared in public today for the Lawyers present would give first time since the incident no indication of what Mr. Hunt

Mr. Hunt dropped from sight a Federal District Court order in mid-June, shortly after it sealing all pretrial testimony was reported that his name and in the case. telephone number had been found in an address book belonging to Bernard L. Barker, ing at noon in the company of one of the five men arrested three unidentified men, making at gunpoint in the 2:30 A.M. his way without speaking break-in at the Democrats' of through a crowd of reporters, fices.

This morning, Mr. Hunt, a in the lobby.

former Central Intelligence Agency operative, eluded waiting reporters by slipping unhim on the building's partly un-Washington offices of Edward below the office in which he Bennett Williams, a lawyer whose firm is representing the Democrats in a $1-million civil suit against the five.

when he showed up to make a deposition. Said under oath or even of how long he talked. They cited photographers and cameramen

Upon being recognized, Mr. The deposition is one of at Hunt, who is 53 years old, least 13 requested by the Democrats as part of the pulled a Panama hat down over his forehead and pressed the elevator's down button.

During the 30-second trip to the lobby, he refused to discuss any aspect of the break-in, saying only that reports that he fled to Spain following disclosure of his name in Mr. Barker's adddress book were "ridiculous."

When the elevator doors

The New York Times E. Howard Hunt leaving the Washington law offices of Edward Bennett Williams after giving a deposition.

When the elevator doors opened, Mr. Hunt put up his hands to hide his face from the newsmen in the lobby and walked quickly out the door. Mr. Hunt worked 63 days for the White House in 1971 portant role in planning the and 24 and a half days in 1972, Bay of Pigs invasion in 1961.