

11 May 73

Both clippings on page regularly assigned to New York metropolitan news. Page 37, grand jury, bottom of col. 1, McCord, bottom of col. 3.

Grand Jury Opens Inquiry On Shift of Mexican Funds

The Washington Star News

HOUSTON, May 18 — A Federal grand jury in Houston opened today a secret investigation into the $89,000 in Mexican checks that allegedly went into the Nixon campaign's hidden Watergate fund.

Robert H. Allen, president of the Gulf Resources and Chemical Corporation, who has said the money was his personal donation, has been subpoenaed to testify tomorrow.

Opening witnesses today include Pennzoil United officials who were brought to Washington after it was brought in from Mexico City last April.

The Justice Department is guiding the grand jury investigation.

McCord Writing Memoirs

WASHINGTON, May 10 (Reuters) — James W. McCord Jr., a convicted Watergate conspirator, is working on his memoirs while on bail pending sentence. Its working title, according to a Washington Post columnist, Maxine Cheshire, is "Malice in Blunderland."