Watergate

Hearings

On NBC TV

New York

The NBC Television network said yesterday it will televise the first day of hearings by the Senate Select Committee probing the Watergate affair.

The hearings are scheduled to start at 7 a.m. PDT on May 17.

The network said it would broadcast live coverage of the committee's subsequent sessions if, in the judgment of NBC's news department, such coverage is warranted.

The CBS and ABC television networks said no decision has been reached yet on whether they'll broadcast the first day of hearings live.
