

Excerpts From Testimony Before Senate Committee on

Special to The New York Times

WASHINGTON, June 5—Following are excerpts from a transcript of testimony today in the sixth day of hearings on the Watergate case by the Senate Select Committee on Presidential Campaign Activities.

MORNING SESSION

Mrs. Sally H. Harmony

MR. DASH. While you were working for Mr. Liddy, will you tell the committee what his duties were and something about his work hours?

MRS. HARMONY. Mr. Liddy, when he first began, was counsel for the Committee for the Re-election. I would say in about two weeks, he changed as counsel to the finance committee.

Q. Did he have any other assignment or responsibility, to your knowledge? A. When I was employed by Mr. Liddy—I think it is in the early part of June—he mentioned the fact that he might be involved in clandestine activity.

Q. Now, during this period of time, did you ever meet Howard Hunt? A. I had occasion to meet Mr. Hunt, yes.

Q. Could you tell the committee what that occasion was and what were the circumstances?

A. Yes, I think, Mr. Dash, it was the week of April 7, around the 5th of April. Mr. Hunt had made a couple of phone calls to the office. Mr. Liddy was going out of town. I took an envelope to him, a regular 8/10 brown envelope, with no markings on it, to Mr. Liddy. He asked me to give it to Mr. Sloan the following morning and after Mr. Sloan had returned it to me, I would call Mr. Hunt and he would come and pick it up.

Q. Now, did you ever in March of '72, while you were still on the eighth floor, type a tape furnished to you by Mr. Liddy? A. I did.

Q. What was the nature of that tape? A. This I am really not definite on. The words I can remember from it are "Joe's stone crab."

Q. Did you ever type any general intelligence memo to Mr. Liddy? A. Yes, sir, on a couple of occasions. Yes, I did.

Q. Could you now describe what those memos were, the format of those memos? A. I typed two that I can recall the content of that did come from Senator McGovern's office, headquarters.

Q. Mrs. Harmony, don't give us the actual contents of the memo, but could you describe it or characterize what the memo referred to, whether they were telephone conversations or was it a—what was the form of the memo?

From McGovern Office

A. This was a question and answer. It was two people discussing something and it was put down—when I typed it, I typed it in a question and answer form. It dealt with goods and services for the Democratic National Convention.

Watergate

Q. Now, you did refer to the fact that you did type telephone logs, telephone conversations. How often did that occur? A. I think I may have done eight of them.

Q. In what form did you get them in the first place? A. Mr. Liddy dictated them to me.

Q. Did you recognize any names, without giving us any content of those logs? Did you recognize any names that appeared in those telephone conversations? A. Yes, there were two names.

Q. Could you just give the names to the committee that you did recognize? A. The name of Spencer Oliver and another name given as Maxie.

Q. Did you ever receive any telephone logs from Mr. McCord? Did he ever come to you with any memos or telephone logs for you to type? A. On one occasion, he asked me, stopped at my desk—Mr. Liddy wasn't in—and asked me for an envelope, put a piece of paper in it, and put it on Mr. Liddy's desk. On another occasion, he did give a folded paper paper to me, which I looked at and recognized as being in the telephone conversations that I had done before, that Mr. Liddy had dictated.

Q. Did you type these telephone logs on any particular stationery? A. Yes, Mr. Liddy had printed stationery with the name "Gemstone" across the top of it. I don't recall, sir, that all of these logs were typed on that particular stationery. I think probably.

Returned to Liddy

Q. Now, after you typed either the telephone logs on such stationery or any of the memoranda, intelligence memoranda you have testified to, to whom did you give these memoranda or telephone logs? A. I returned them to Mr. Liddy.

Q. Did you ever type any memorandum for either Mr. Magruder or Mr. Mitchell. A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever deliver any of this for Mr. Magruder or Mr. Mitchell? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see any photographs in Mr. Liddy's office of documents from the Democratic National Committee? A. Yes, I did.

Q. Could you characterize

6-6-73

very briefly what the documents were, what they looked like? A. They were 8-by-10 glossies.

Q. Did they have a letterhead on them? A. There were a stack of photographs I mentioned, the number of 20 or 25—I can't be definite how many were there. The only one that I recognize that I can put anything with was the one signed by Larry O'Brien. It was a typed letter.

Q. Was there anything unusual about the photograph that you can remember? A. Yes, sir, they were being held by fingers.

Q. Did you ever prepare a pass for McGovern headquarters for Mr. Liddy? A. The day of June 16, right in the afternoon, Mr. Liddy was looking for some stationery which he couldn't find. We Xeroxed and made a sample of McGovern letterhead which I dictated in a memo to be typed.

Q. And what was the nature of the message on it? A. The nature of the message, it was to whom it may concern, and it was "this will authorize the bearer to enter premises" for some such reason.

Q. Did it have a signature attached to it? A. I was asked to put the initials GH/WJP as the secretary would type something.

What about the signature to the pass? A. The signature was signed Gary Hart with the initials like a secretary would sign it.

Q. Who signed that? A. I did.

Q. What happened to that pass, do you know? A. Yes, I was informed the following week that Mr. Hunt had it in his possession.

Q. At whose instructions? A. At Mr. Liddy's instructions.

Q. During any conversation that you had with Mr. Magruder in March, 1973, did he ever talk to you about any conversation he had with Mr. Mitchell?

A. Yes, I think it was probably later than March, it was after Mr. Magruder went to the Commerce Department to work. I was called by Mr. Magruder or he had talked to his secretary, who was still there, who transferred the call. Mr. Magruder indicated to me he had talked with Mr. Mitchell and assured Mr. Mitchell. This was after he knew I was going to talk with the Hill people. He said, "I have indicated to Mr. Mitchell that he has no reason to be concerned about any of your testimony."

AFTERNOON SESSION

Robert Reisner

MR. LENZER. What was your position with the committee?

MR. REISNER. I was administrative assistant to Mr. Jeb Magruder.

Q. Now, approximately when did you see these documents and describe the circumstances surrounding your observations? A. During the week prior to June 17, and perhaps it was during the two weeks prior to June 17—I cannot be certain on exactly the time—I observed similar to this here.

Q. You are referring to the stationery?

A. I am referring to the stationery with "Gemstone" at the time. On that occasion, it was simply in Mr. Magruder's hands or lying on his desk. I am not certain. Subsequently, I was handed the document and I was handed it in such a way that it was indicated to me very clearly that it was not me to observe, that it was not for my conception. At that time, it was handed to me and I did—that was the second time that I saw it. It was during those two weeks prior to the 17th.

Q. That was Mr. Magruder who handed them to you in his office, is that correct? A. Yes, he did.

Q. What were his instructions? What were you supposed to do with these materials?

A. I was preparing Mr. Mitchell's files for a meeting with Mr. Mitchell. Now, he was campaign director at this time and it was a daily activity. I was handed the documents and I was asked to put them in Mr. Mitchell's files. The nature of that is that things that Mr. Magruder might have wished to take up with Mr. Mitchell were put the filed marked "Mr. Mitchell's File," and that is all. That does not indicate any more than that.

MR. THOMPSON. How much cash was in the safe?

A. How much cash at that time? It seems to me it was in the neighborhood of several thousand dollars—perhaps as much as five or six.

Q. Do you recall any names, any amounts of individuals who were receiving money from Mr. Porter's safe?

Code Name Used

A. Well, I can remember that there were, in addition to Mr. Liddy—now, Mr. Liddy was—it was Mr. Porter that indicated to me that Mr. Liddy was receiving money. There was an individual who was referred to by a code name and that code name was "Sedan Chair" and that that individual was—

Q. Sedan Chair? two words? A. Yes. I believe it was actually "Sedan Chair 2."

Q. It was someone in the Humphrey committee, from what you can tell? A. From what I can tell, I mean it purported to be.

SENATOR ERVIN. As I understand, you reported that your log shows prior to Feb. 4 that there was a meeting at the White House attended by Magruder, Liddy and Dean.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that correct? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then, your log shows that on Feb. 4 there was a meeting of Liddy, John Mitchell, Jeb Stuart Magruder and John W. Dean 3d? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You stated that in March that Mr. Magruder went to Key Biscayne in Florida for the purpose of meeting with Mr. Mitchell? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was after he came back from Key Biscayne that Mr. Magruder told you to call Liddy and tell Liddy that, it was arranged? A. Mr. Chairman, to be precise, my recollection is that on one occasion I was asked to call Mr. Liddy and to make such a statement. My recollection is that it was, could have occurred shortly after the trip because the time seems correct. I cannot be absolutely certain.

Q. And I understand from your testimony that Mr. Magruder had a file called the Mitchell file in which he placed documents which related to matters he wished to discuss with Mr. Mitchell?

A. Yes, sir.

Copies Sent to Haldeman

Q. According to your best recollection, the file contained some Gemstone reports for what was in those papers on one occasion?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anyone else receive copies of memos that Mr. Magruder sent to Mr. Mitchell?

A. Yes, sir, each document to Mr. Mitchell went through me—would have been a formal document to Mr. Mitchell. A duplicate copy was sent to Mr. Haldeman's office.

Q. Mr. Haldeman was chief of staff in the White House?

A. That is correct. In fairness to the nature of what we were doing there, we were working for the President who was the candidate and, therefore, we were providing him the opportunity, if he wished, or if Mr. Haldeman wished to see any documents that were taking place in his campaign.

Q. Now, did you receive a phone call or any communication from Mr. Magruder after you were subpoenaed to go before the grand jury or before our committee? A. Yes, sir. On that Friday, which was, I believe, March 30.

Q. What did Mr. Magruder ask you to do?

A. He asked me to get together with him. He called me at home and asked me to get together with him that morning. He asked me whether he could take me to work. I indicated that I didn't think that was appropriate, because I presumed that the reason I was being subpoenaed before this committee was to discuss Mr. Magruder; therefore, I didn't think it was appropriate for us to meet.

He then called me again that morning to urge a meeting. I suggested there should be a third person there. We set a meeting. Then I chose not to attend the meeting. I wanted to be firm about not meeting with him.

Q. What was Magruder's reaction when you told him that?

A. His response was extremely agitated. He felt he wanted to know what I thought I was doing.

He said, I can't understand this. He said, you know, are you not going to be cooperative? Are you not going—everyone else has been cooperative, or something to that effect.

Now, in fairness to Mr. Magruder here, because I think it is bordering in a very serious point that I have discussed with your staff, there was a fourth phone call on that day.

I think he said that he was upset, that he was sorry if he was overly anxious. He said he just wanted me to realize that there were some extremely serious matters concerned here and that I should treat them in that way.

Q. Did he tell you at that time that you should be careful about what you said because people's lives and futures were at stake? A. Yes, he did. That was in the second phone call, and that was by way of explaining to me why he was so concerned.

SENATOR WEICKER: Do you know of any phone calls as between Mr. Magruder and Mr. Colson?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Concerning demonstration projects?

A. It is my impression that Mr. Colson was—let me go back. I think I have described earlier in testimony here that at the time of Mr. Hoover's death there was a demonstration. I think it was here on Capitol Hill. At that time, it seems to me Mr. Magruder received a phone call in which he was instructed to get counter-demonstrators. Now, I was not monitoring the phone call. I was sitting in front of him when he received the phone call, so I do not know exactly who it was. It was my impression that it was Mr. Colson that did that.

Demonstrator Removed

The reason that I say that is that I think I subsequently said—I expressed some surprise about the activity. And he indicated to me something along the lines of, "It is a throwaway, we have to do things like this, because that allows us to say no when it is important."

Q. Now, were there any other projects, aside from the conversations you have referred to, that were discussed as between Mr. Magruder and whom you thought to be Mr. Colson?

A. When I say thought to be, you know, it was my impression that it was from the circumstances, and if asked who I thought it was, I thought it was Mr. Colson. But I cannot say that.

It seems to me that Mr. Magruder also was called on a subsequent occasion. The reason I remember this is that he made some joke about the fact that he had gotten himself in trouble. The way he had gotten himself in trouble was that he had removed an individual who was supposed to be sitting in front of the White House wearing a McGovern button. He had said, he had called it off. He had placed that individual there initially, I guess, and then had removed him. He received a phone call and again, it was my impression, but impression is as close as I can come, that he had gotten himself in trouble and, therefore, replaced that demonstrator.

SENATOR INOUE: Besides Mr. Magruder, have you met with any other person that might have attempted to influence you in your presence here or before any investigating group? A. No, sir.
