

What Nixon Gets In His Paycheck

Washington

President Nixon's monthly paychecks of $20,833.34 are reduced by tax withholding and other deductions to $15,069.88, the White House said yesterday.

Actually, Mr. Nixon collects two checks, one for salary and the other for expenses. Both are subject to income taxes and taxes are withheld from each.

In response to an inquiry, the White House said total monthly tax withholding on

Mr. Nixon's annual salary of $200,000 and expense allowance of $50,000 is $5,061.64.

Mr. Nixon also is a member of the savings bond payroll savings plan and $75 is deducted monthly to buy a bond with a face value of $100.

The White House said the only other deduction from Mr. Nixon's monthly pay is $26.82 to cover his participation in a federal group life insurance program.
