In Capitol Hill, Subpoenas and Rivalry constitutional prerogatives. committee: Keep your hands off our will move to issue this warning to the mittee on Impeachment meets tomorrow, Rep. Thomas Railsback (R-III.) When the House Judiciary Subcom-Watergate investigating constitutional prerogatives of the Ervin's move as interference with the investigation, the congressmen view mittee members were outraged by the recent shotgun subpoenas issued by House committee in its impeachment demanding hundreds of White House the material will also be sought by the tapes and documents. Since much of Sen. Sam Ervin's Watergate committee some Democratic votes. Judiciary Com-Republican support and might pick up Railsback probably will have solid over God's half-acre." peachment process "will be spread all fice. Otherwise, Convers says, the imtions into Mr. Nixon's conduct in ofto prevent a proliferation of investiga-Democratic leadership of both houses dino of New Jersey, to confer with the committee chairman, Rep. Peter Roone highly partisan Democrat on the the Republicans. He recently urged the Judiciary Committee who agrees with Rep. John Conyers of Michigan is > that Rep. Wilbur D. Mills of Arkansas should have turned Mr. Nixon's tax problems over to the Judiciary Com-Judiciary Committee members. is the real impeachment investigation have drifted into the ears of unhappy Committee's audit of Mr. Nixon's taxes his Joint Internal Revenue Taxation Ervin is not the only interloper worrying Conyers and other Judiciary mittee. Private remarks by Mills that Committee members. They believe

The prospect that President Nixon may soon revert to an all-out hard line Rep. John Rhodes of Arizona. mies threatens a backlash at high levels of the Republican Party, including against his multiplying political enethe new party leader in the House,

Rhodes, a trusted and highly respected party man, believes that no the country. sults for the President, his party and work but, indeed, could have tragic re-Nixon counterattack could possibly told us, "until after the House has disposed of the impeachment matter cided to tell all the facts. They have to the Rubicon months ago when they de-Let's face it. the White House crossed "No counterattack is feasible," Rhodes

In stressing that any White House own administration. President has over decisions of his guessing, reflects how little control the tect itself from congressional secondturns, an investigation intended to pro-(IRS) audit of President Nixon's tax re-The new Internal Revenue Service

IRS. Consequently, ever since the congressional study was requested by M_{Γ} been on pins and needles. Nixon Dec. 8, high IRS officials have agents and therefore embarrass the up discrepancies missed by federal tax gressional committee study may pick primarily on fear that the joint conclared them correct last June is based Nixon's returns again after having de-The IRS decision to examine Mr.

a new self-protecting audit slipped by The wonder is that their demand for go on down that road until the House without being stymied by either the has had its say on impeachment." Treasury Department or the White after a House vote on impeachment (possibly late in the spring), Rhodes offensive would have to wait until was carefully leaving the door open to a major shift in the President's stratimpeachment. egy if the House should vote against tion.

sire to confront yet another investigadre at San Clemente, which has no denouncement of a new audit was most House. In any event, Wednesday's anunwelcome news to the presidential ca-countries). ganization of petroleum exporting ber of OPEC" (the Arab nations' orrefer to Canada as "the northern mem-Arab levels, privately and caustically Canada's raising the price of its oil Top-level U.S. officials, outraged at $10 a barrel, U.S. officials were stunned the petroleum price stampede. that a neighbor and ally would join (including export tax) between $9 and crude oil with an effective price Canada matched Arab $9-a-barrel for driving "hard bargains" on oil, cated he did not blame the Canadians World press conference Nov. 17, indi-After President Nixon, in his Disney seated American hostility. mon meets at the end of January with Donald, against a background of deephis Canadian counterpart, Donald Mc Federal energy adviser William Si-

© 1974, Field Enterprises, Inc.