Continues Work
On Watergate

Los Angeles

The president of the California Bar Association said yesterday that "hundreds of man hours" have been spent in the Bar's preliminary investigation of possible misconduct by six California attorneys in the Watergate case.

Among them is President Nixon.

Seth M. Hufstедler, the BAR president, said in an interview that within two or three months he expects a determination as to whether the BAR should proceed to formal disciplinary proceedings against the attorneys.
