Ziegler Assails Ford's Remarks on Cabinet Plans

In the interview, the Vice President Ford on his plans should President Nixon resign or be compelled to leave office.

Mr. Ziegler said President Nixon "is going to be here until 1977."

Mr. Ziegler made the comment to a television interviewer as he left the Key Biscayne. Community Church, where Mr. Nixon and his family attended Easter services.

It was the first public comment by a White House official on an interview that Mr. Ford

In the interview, the Vice President discussed a possible Cabinet should he assume the President discussed a possible Cabinet should he assume the President discussed a possible Cabinet should he assume the President discussed a possible Cabinet should he assume the President discussed a possible Cabinet should he assume the President discussed a possible Cabinet magazine.

In the interview, the Vice President of Gaintely would not be asked to remain as press secretary.

In the interview, the Vice President of the interview, the Vice President to happen."

In the interview, the Vice President of the intervitor on his current speaking tour.

His press secretary, Paul Miltich, said the Vice President emphasized to reporters that he did not expect to be President, but was willing to answer speculative questions on what he would do as President because of the inherent responsibility of any Vice President to be prepared for the White President made it clear that House. KEY BISCAYNE, Fla., April gave to John Osborne of The Secretary of State Kissinger 14 (UPI) — Ronald L. Ziegler, New Republic magazine.

In the interview, the Vice Secretary James Schlesinger Schles