President, in an Interview, Insists He Won't Resign

WASHINGON, May 16 (AP) come head of Democrats for given long thought to the pos-campaign. sibility of resignation but has decided he will not quit "under any circumstances," a news-fice even temporarily to Vice President Ford.

If the House of Representatives votes impeachment, Mr. Nixon said, he will accept the verdict "with good grace" and then defend himself to the very end before the Senate, the columnist wrote.

Mr. Kilpatrick said that he spent one hour 20 minutes with the President in his Oval Office Tuesday in a session he described as "more of a monologue than an interview."

as rejecting calls for him to step down rather than face impeachment process.

"I would have to rule out resignation. And I would have to rule out the rather fatuous suggestion that I take the 25th Amendment and just step out and have Vice President Ford step in for a while," Mr. Nixon said.

"If the House should vote an impeachment, and we go to tria by the Senate, of course I would follow that course," Mr. Nixon was quoted as saving "It would

Bugging and Bombing

Besides pledging not to resign, Mr. Nixon was said to have made these disclosures:

TDuring his 1968 campaign for the White House, "there was not only surveillance by the F.B.I., but bugging by the F.B.I., and J. Edgar Hoover told me that my plane in the last two weeks was bugged."

THIS "Ioneliest decision of all," to resume bombing of the Hanoi-Haiphong areas of North Vietnam in December, 1972, was, in Mr. Kilpatrick's words, "opposed by all his Cabinet members save one, and supported only by John Connally."

Mr. Connally, ormer Secretary of the Treasury, left the Cabinet as more of a monologue than an interview."

"If the House should vote an impeachment, and we go to tria by the Senate, of course I would by the Senate, of course, "It would be immensely time-consuming, but I could do it and I would do it for reasons that are not—what do you call it—those of a toreador in the ring, trying to prove himself, but I would do it for reasons that are not—what do you call it—those of a toreador in the ring, trying to prove himself, but I could do it for reasons that are not—what do you call it—those of a toreador in the ring, trying to prove himself, but I would do it because I have given long thought to what is best for the wind the constitutional process."
