

Nixon's Cruise

Washington

President Nixon took 11 conservative House members for a two-hour dinner cruise on the Potomac yesterday evening.

It was the second such outing in as many weeks.

A White House spokesman said: "The President wanted to get together with a group of friends in an informal way."

The group included five Southern Democrats — Representative Omar Burlison of Texas, Gillespie V. Montgomery of Mississippi, Otto E. Passman of Louisiana, Robert L. F. Sikes of Florida and W. D. Daniel of Virginia.

United Press