

Public TV Is Favored In Impeachment Inquiry

By 57 to 36 per cent, the American people favor televising nationally the impeachment proceedings in the House of Representatives. By an even larger 59 to 34 per cent, a majority also would favor putting a U.S. Senate trial of the President on TV.

Earlier this month, a nationwide cross section of 1,413 households in which interviews were conducted in person was asked this question:

"Do you think the impeachment proceedings in the House of Representatives should be televised nationally or not?"

The cross section was then asked:

"If the President is impeached by the House of Representatives and he is put on trial by the U.S. Senate, do you think the trial in the senate should be televised nationally or not?"

The cross section was "If the President is imput on trial by the U.S. Senate, do you think the trial should be televised nationally or not?"

RESPONSE

Should be ..... 57%
Should not ..... 36
Not sure ..... 7

The cross section was then asked:

"If the President is impeached by the House of Representatives and he is put on trial by the U.S. Senate, do you think the trial in the Senate should be televised nationally or not?"

RESPONSE

Should be ..... 59%
Should not ..... 34
Not sure ..... 7