

Souvenir

Snatchers

San Clemente

City officials said yesterday that souvenir hunters have stolen every municipal sign that made reference to the city with 20,000 residents as "the home of the western White House."

New York Times