Names Aide To Counsel

Watergate Special Prosecutor Leon Jaworski yesterday announced the appointment of Peter N. Kreindler as Counsel to the special prosecution force.

Kreindler, 29, served as executive assistant to both Archibald Cox, the original special prosecutor, and Jaworski. Kreindler succeeds Philip A. Lacovara who has resigned as counsel to enter private law practice here.

A magna cum laude graduate of Harvard College and Harvard law school, Kreindler is married to the former Alice Goldberg of Stamford, Conn. They have two sons.
