

Notes on People

by Laurie Johnston

•
In her first scheduled public appearance since her husband left the Presidency last August, [Pat Nixon] is to go today to Cerritos, Calif., for the dedication of a grammar school named for her. Mrs. Nixon lived on a four-acre farm in the dairy community, 80 miles north of Can Clemente, from 1914 until 1931. She last went back in 1969, as First Lady, to dedicate the Pat Nixon children's park.
•