Shreveport, La.

George Rogers, whose conviction for threatening the life of former President Richard M. Nixon was overturned by the U.S. Supreme Court, will not be prosecuted again, U.S. Attorney Don Walter said yesterday.

The high court tossed out the conviction and the five-year sentence last month on a trial technicality. Rogers was charged under a federal law with making a threat against the President in 1972 after he was overheard to say that he was going to Washington to whip Mr. Nixon.
