

Notes on People

eruses.

NY Times SEP 4 1976

Stephen Beekman Bull, the former White House appointments secretary who was custodian of the Nixon tapes, and Jeanne Fugazzi Quinlan, a staff aide to both Presidents Ford and Nixon, Aug. 27 at Bethesda, Md. It is the second marriage for each.

The bride, assigned to the officer that makes travel arrangements for the President, accompanied the Fords to China. Mr. Bull, a ninth-generation New Yorker, was a Nixon advance man in the 1968 campaign. He testified several times concerning possible explanations for erasures on the Watergate tapes. He is now with the Congressionally-established Commission for Review of the National Policy Toward Gambling, which is to issue its report next month.