

MARK LANE

The author of the #1 best seller, Rush to Judgment, stirs up a new storm of controversy
in...

The man who convinced America that the Warren Commission could be wrong now replies to "those who would negate reasonable disagreement." In a clear warning that "Big Brother" is becoming a reality, Lane reveals how the U.S. government harassed him — and those who helped him—while investigating the Kennedy assassination; how our "free" communications system suppressed information; how he—virtually alone—stood up to the Establishment and broke through its "curtain of silence." And he presents new evidence regarding the assassination which has recently been uncovered by New Orleans District Attorney, Jim Garrison.

"I recommend this book urgently and enthusiastically. You must read it."—JOE DOLAN

$6.95 from your bookseller

HOLT, RINEHART AND WINSTON, INC.

SF Examiner-Chronicle
This World, Sunday, June 2, 1968